Happy College Month!!

Congratulations to this week's Falcons of the Week, Kirtlyn Izvorski, Lara Moya Martin, Tagel Wangler, Briana Tierney. Please stop in the office to pick up your shirt, lunch, popcorn and slushy pass from Mrs. Rice.

Attention WBL students. We will not be having our Friday work based learning meeting today as Mr. Klein will be pouring concrete with the Building Trades students at that time. Plan on meeting again next Friday during advisory time.

Unleash your inner actor, artist and counselor at law!! Become a witness, attorney, journalist, or artist and enact case facts in front of attorneys and judges in real life courtrooms. If you want to be a lawyer, actor, writer, teacher, or more, Mock Trial may be for you. Mock Trial is an experience that will build your resume and be a ton of FUN! In Mock Trial there is something for everyone. Join us in Lab 103, on Wednesday, October 15, 2025 at 2:30, to LEARN MORE and meet the coaches, Breck Gildner and Kacy Hinkley.

Attention ALL Students: To celebrate College Month, several staff members will be in the halls tomorrow before school and between classes handing out candy for correct answers to college trivia questions. So, tomorrow, find Mrs. Hupcik, Mr. Shinault, Mrs. Atkins and Ms. Hofer to test your brain and win some sugar!

Have you always thought about auditioning for a musical but have been too nervous to try? Would you like to improve your vocal music ability? Would you like to meet some new friends and try an activity that looks great on your college application? The OHHS Theatrical Troupe will be having some pre-audition musical theatre workshops coming up in October. Join us at 4 pm on October 16 and 23 and at 1:15 on October 30 to get a headstart and feel more confident auditioning in December!

Attention Juniors and Seniors: The following college reps will be here this week:
Lawrence Tech today at 9:30AM
Northern Michigan University today at 12:30PM

Falcons, There are some things in school we all have to learn, but have you ever sought out learning on your own? Have you ever been so fascinated about a particular subject that you did everything you could to become a master at it? If so, then you are our word of the week: Autodidact. An autodidact is a person that seeks out knowledge and teaches themselves about their subject of their interest. It is the person that learns how to code without ever taking a coding class. It is the person who can take apart an engine and rebuild it, even if they were never officially trained on how to do it. Here it is in a sentence:

Sally was a master chef despite never attending any sort of culinary school or classes. When it came to cooking and the science behind it, she was a true autodidact. If you are an autodidact when it comes to vocabulary, see Mr. Pilarski for information about prizes you could win for our word of the week.

Attention NHS Members: Looking for volunteer hours this semester? Sign up to take tickets at our home games for easy hours! Sign up in the Athletic Office.
